DID YOU KNOW?

Children who read regularly do better on standardized tests. Encourage your youngster to read whatever he likes (books, magazines, comics). He will build vocabulary and reading comprehension skills that will help him in everyday life and at test time.

Parent Involvement and PTO

Parent Involvement is going strong this year at CVMS. We will have the PTO Board elections and a Parent Involvement workshop on September 22, 2009 at 6:00 p.m. Snacks will be provided by the Parent Involvement coordinator and the Rossville Sonic.

Walker County is promoting the "Be There" program encouraging parents to stay involved in their child's life.

The media center at CVMS has a resource area for parents to check out books and games to use at home. These resources have topics from Self Esteem to ADHD.

Parents can get involved by saving box tops for the media center, volunteering at the book fair or at school dances, signing up a teacher at http://wdef.com/golden_apple_award or becoming a member of the PTO.
